

NEWS RELEASE

Kinpo Electronics Inc. Acquired EU Medical Certificate for Wearable ECG Monitor - BC1 Patch

Globally, CVD is the number 1 cause of death; which represents 30% of global death. Kinpo Electronics Inc. provisioned future burden caused to people. Being one of the top EMS manufacturers, Kinpo Electronics Inc. has developed a solution for CVD prevention. Today they proudly announced acquirement of medical CE MDD certificate for its in-house developed wearable ECG monitor, BC1 Patch. CE MDD (Medical Device Directive 93/42/EEC) certification allows BC1 to be marketed directly to consumers within the European Union, and Kinpo Electronics Inc. will start marketing in major European territories by Q3 2017, under its own brand, XYZlife.

"I am so proud of the medical team! It is indeed a great leap and encouragement that the vision of future medical field, especially telemedicine which will benefit the world to solve aging problems," said CEO of Kinpo Electronics Inc., Simon Shen. "We truly believe one of the most important parts for future healthcare is telemedicine. Along with mobile network enhancement, we will be able to collect and monitor patients' status on real-time basis."

BC1 Patch is an innovative wearable ECG monitor which provides long term & real-time monitoring, historical observation and dedicated reports for medical professional and users. A nique calling function can immediately contact doctors, family or a close friend when irregular signs are detected. It also helps individuals and doctors, from pre-screening potential cardiac symptoms to efficient treatment and outpatient medical care.

Acquiring an EU medical certificate means that Kinpo Electronics Inc. is propelling its way to a new milestone for personal medical & healthcare management.

Kinpo Electronics Inc. implements medical technology for the consumer market to manage individuals health by combining smart clothing with proprietary algorithms such as the BCX Smart Clothing Series. The complete kits monitor people's daily life from analyzing stress, fatigue and sleep. The total lifestyle management Smart Clothing is available in the US.

About XYZlife

XYZlife is the brand under Kinpo Electronics Inc. which is dedicated to healthcare, medical products and services since 2013. Services and products are inspired to fit the future medical system and demands of the digital health age. We are devoted to healthy living by providing around-the-clock healthcare solutions with applications designed to reduce the burden of the personal and public healthcare systems.

For more information:

Mr. Jacky Ho

jackyho@calcomp.com.tw

xyzlife_info@xyz-life.com

www.xyz-life.com