WEBINAR

The journey to medical packaging sustainability and recyclability

19 November 2020 | 14:00 - 15:00 CET

Join Amcor and HPRC (Healthcare Plastics Recycling Council) for a live webinar on 19 November. Medical packaging plays a critical role in ensuring the sterility and usability of medical devices; contributing to patient safety and ease of device use for healthcare professionals. Today's challenge is to continue to deliver on packaging performance alongside positive steps towards greater sustainability and recyclability. In this free webinar we will identify the challenges and opportunities on this journey and how collaboration is central to making progress.
