

Do you trust your data?

With over 7 million surgical cases audited and imported, Caresyntax is the industry leader for driving better data practices.

If you are not confident or embarrassed with discussing your data, don't be. Caresyntax data auditors are experienced with all levels of data availability and cleanliness. Let us take the first step together towards better data practices.

The Problem

Perioperative leaders do not trust their data

Access to clean, actionable data is both the blocker and the precursor for driving operating room improvements, adopting operating room data analytic solutions, and engaging key stakeholders. A distrust in data results in a lack of communication about data improvement efforts.

The Solution

Increase trust by automating data audit, validation, and communication

With Periop Insight, we run all data through an automated, nightly audit and validation then produce a report back identifying all errors and outliers. Better access to clean, actionable data in Periop Insight gives stakeholders the tools needed to drive better data documentation and OR improvements.

About Periop Insight

Periop Insight is a data analytics solution for today's busy perioperative leaders to improve their OR performance. Periop Insight eliminates the hard, endless work of getting the information you need to run your OR, giving you the tools to make better decisions, share your insights and engage surgeons and administrators.

“We have better data now than ever before.”

Gerard Manecke, MD | Chair of Anesthesiology | UC San Diego Health System

Periop Insight helps you with:

Cleaner Data

Every night, we automatically validate errors, identify outliers, verify surgeons, and clarify locations and produce a report back identifying all opportunities to correct the data.

Better Communication

By using Periop Insight's data auditing, web application, and automated reporting, perioperative leaders have the tools needed to communicate better data documentation practices amongst all stakeholders.

Actionable Results

Use Periop Insight's powerful data analytics and reporting solution to drive data-focused improvements using trusted and nightly audited data.
