COMPANY PROFILE

HAROL

- Harol has dedicating its energies for 40 years in the design, the manufacturing and the marketing of medical devices specialized in non-invasive ventilation in hospital wards (ICU, ER, Coronary Care Unit and Pneumology).
Increasingly high-performance products, aimed at improving the management of critically ill patients, to make their experience as comfortable as possible and to guarantee the satisfaction of both doctors and health workers.
- «Flexibility and the ability to listen and find fast solutions to users' problems, are the skills that allowed us to develop excellent solutions. We provide products for patients in need of non-invasive respiratory assistance and training to make the job of health personnel more efficient and safer.»
- Innovation, respect, recognition and collaboration are our core values that we strongly believe in and that you will find upon entering Harol's world.

HAROL

WHAT WE BELIEVE IN

VISION – MISSION

- Team's HAROL goal is to be an innovative leader in the development of excellent solutions for all those patients in need of non invasive respiratory assistance in a collaborative way paying respect and recognition to those who, like us, have the mission of saving people's lives.
- and our values
- Collaboration to welcome customer's request to continuously improve the device
- Respect to listen and understand others' points of view
- Recognition to value people that help us achieve our success

HAROL

SINCE THE BEGINNING OF NON-INVASIVE VENTILATION

- Explore OUR HISTORY
- At the beginning of non-invasive ventilation era, its founder, Mario Callegher saw the possibility of developing and improving this technique and began to work by researching and studying, operating alongside doctors and health workers, studying and designing new devices always keeping the value of the company mission high “to better the quality of patients’ lives” .
- “Way back in 1988, he was the first to introduce the helmet in Italy, device that initially had some resistance, from both doctors and patients, but then perseverance, dedication, and above all the believing in his own work, made the “helmet” together with many other products become common use in the Hospitals.”
- Today, Cristina and Massimo, following their father’s footsteps, continue to carry on those values, with certainly different techniques and methods, with innovative solutions the flexibility that a family business allows, always pursuing those values that over the years have become a lifestyle.
