Medibino®

the baby head guard

"Prevention is better than treatment."

Safely putting a baby to sleep on their back is recommended by doctors and midwives for a good reason. After birth, your baby's head is particularly soft and thus particularly prone to head deformities.

The Medibino® baby head protection developed by a renowned doctor helps to maintain the natural head shape of your baby - right from the start. The Medibino® can also be used in the case of an existing, slight deformation and thus prevent it from worsening.

Machine washable
detachable cover

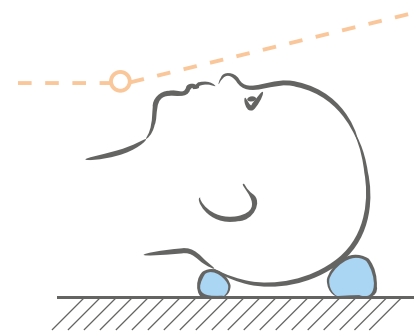

Adjustable size

The Medibino® results in even pressure relief in the recommended lying down position.

The perfect fit of the easy to handle ring ensures maximum safety as well as the greatest flexibility possible.
